

GH Productions, Inc.
The Basket Maker's Catalog
521 E. Walnut St.
Scottsville, KY 42164

Basketry Classes 2010

270-237-4821 • 800-447-7008
www.basketmakerscatalog.com
mail@basketmakerscatalog.com

Dear Friends,

Check out the great weaving opportunities coming up in March, May and June in Scottsville, Kentucky.

Jill is back! Jill Choate joins us for 2 wonderful days of weaving. Antlers are her game, and the Skep and Roundabout are her fame. If you'd like to try antlers, if you enjoy rib work, if you'd love to weave with a woman who's spent the past 25 years in Alaska...your opportunity is here.

NEW—Many of you know the reputation of artists Mary Ann and Bill Smith of McCalla, Alabama; many are familiar with their work in bark and white oak. They've been making baskets from natural materials for over 20 years and are the resident basket makers at Tannehill Historical State Park near Birmingham. We welcome them to South Central Kentucky and look forward to learning from these talented folks.

Judy Zugish returns to Scottsville, by popular demand, with more of her inspirational magic. Come create a signature Cedar Bark Topper as you explore the beauty of cedar and learn Northwest Coast weaving techniques. This is undeniably an experience you'll treasure and it's indeed a privilege for The Basket Maker's Catalog to offer you the opportunity to work with Judy.

We hope the dates are open on your calendar and that you will join us in Scottsville for some creative and fun weaving workshops.

Hope to see You soon,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Beth".

Registration: Call us today to register; class sizes are limited.
Call 270-237-4821 or 1-800-447-7008 to register.
Location: 521 E. Walnut Street • Scottsville, KY 42164

Prices include all instruction and materials: Payment is due at time of registration; (materials and instructions provided to anyone who registers but is unable to attend). Your payment will not be processed until class day.

Please bring to Antler Classes: Garden pruners, awl, heavy duty packing tool, masking tape, bucket, spritzer, round nose pliers, and knife.

Hickory Bark Class: All tools provided during class. Students should bring embellishments for their baskets.

Cedar Bark Topper Class: Large towel, packing tool, spritzer, and scissors.

Jill Choate — Antler Basket Artist

After living in Alaska for more than 25 years where she learned dog mushing, salmon fishing and basket making, Jill and her family now call Missouri home. Jill began her adventures with antlers more than fifteen years ago, creating each vessel by "talking" to the antler. Her contemporary work is extraordinary. Join Jill for one or both classes and create your own treasured antler baskets.

Learn more about Jill at www.jchoatebasketry.com.

Skep —

The antler Skep basket uses rib construction techniques with the antler as your focal point. A tall, cylindrical, vessel is the result—complete with woven bottom.

It's a great beginning basket project and is easy to weave. Size varies according to the size of your chosen antler.

Cost: $ 120.00

Friday, March 12, 2010

Weaving Level: All levels

9:00 - 5:00 Central Time

Skep -
March 12, 2010

Class sizes are limited.
Call today to register
1-800-447-7008

Roundabout — see other side

More from Jill Choate.....

Roundabout —

If you love the look of a wall pocket but would like a roomier version the Roundabout is just what you've been looking for. It's rounder, with a larger pouch opening, and the front ribs are already in place for you. How cool is that? A better rib construction basket that's easier to make; you just can't beat it.

Cost: $ 120.00

Saturday, March 13, 2010

Weaving Level: All levels

9:00 - 5:00 Central Time

Roundabout

Judy Zugish — Cedar Bark Toppers

from the hands of the weaver through the spirit of the artist

Shade the sun and see your eyes sparkle each day you pop this classy hat atop your head. Students will plait and twine with western red cedar bark and Alaskan yellow cedar—all finely prepared for you by instructor Judy Zugish of Marysville, Washington. You'll relish working with these materials and developing an understanding of the use of Northwest coast and Haida weaving techniques. The Topper is an undeniably stylish and durable basket-maker's classic—a pleasure to weave and a treasure to wear!

Note: This is an intense two-day workshop and Judy expects that students will need to do some weaving during the evening between classes.

As a fiber artist whose work continually reflects the human experience, Judy's unique constructions capture the character of her materials and express the dance of the hands and heart. She enjoys teaching and studying basketry both at home and abroad. Learn more about Judy at www.twigtwisters.com. Call today and sign up for this incredible experience.

Weaving Level: Advanced Beginner / Intermediate

Friday, May 21 and Saturday, May 22, 2010 - Two Days

9:00 - 4:00 Central Time both days

Cost: $ 260.00

Class sizes are limited--
Call today to register
1-800-447-7008

Mary Ann and Bill Smith Hickory and Poplar Bark Baskets

This intense and fun filled class will teach the basics of hand peeling and shaping a poplar bark basket and hand peeling and splitting hickory bark for handles, rims & lashing. Personalize your basket with any embellishments you wish to bring (beads, buttons, stones, etc.). Come and enjoy working with these incredibly versatile materials. Students will have a choice of sizes and may be able to complete more than one basket.

Bill and Mary Ann Smith are the resident basketmakers at Tannehill Historical State Park near Birmingham, Alabama and members of Southern Artistry. They've been making baskets from natural materials for 20+ years.

Class size is limited. Call today to reserve your space in this special Bark Class: 1-800-447-7008.

Cost: $ 120.00

Friday, June 11, 2010

Weaving Level: All levels

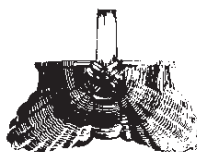

9:00 - 4:00 Central Time

Call today to register —

The Basket Maker's Catalog

521 E. Walnut St. • Scottsville, KY 42164

800-447-7008

270-237-4821

www.basketmakerscatalog.com